Hurricane Alert Is Issued For East Coast Of U.S.

PRELIMINARY STORM PRECAUTIONS URGED AS BLOW ADVANCING

ACTUAL WARNINGS NOT YET ISSUED AS SOME HOPE HELD FOR CURVE

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15—(AP)—A preliminary hurricane alert was sounded as a measure of precaution today for residents along a 750-mile stretch of the Eastern Seaboard between Vero Beach, Fla., and Cape Hatteras, N. C., as a great storm with winds up to 140 miles an hour raged through the Atlantic.

Actual storm warnings have not been displayed. The alerted area contains some of the South's most populous and historic cities—Daytona Beach, Jacksonville, Brunswick, Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington. The storm center at noon was 400 miles east-southeast of Vero Beach, moving between west-northwest and northwest.

North Curve Possible

Grady Norton, chief forecaster in the weather bureau's storm warning service said the alert is not intended to spread alarm, but only to advise persons in the area to plan for the possibility of a hurricane and to keep informed of advisories. He confidently predicted a north-ward recurve which would end the danger.

Storm warnings were flying in the northeastern Bahama Islands, and an Army hurricane hunter searched the sea far to the east to the Windward Islands where three ships reported a new low pressure area—posibly another storm was developing.

The present major hurricane developed in the same area five days ago.

The storm's center was placed in an 11:30 a. m. advisory at lati-

REPORTS OF SECOND STORM IN ATLANTIC BEING INVESTIGATED

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15—(AP)—Ship reports that a second tropical storm was developing in the South Atlantic today sent an army hurricane hunter aircraft into the "area of suspicion" to make a visual survey.

The navy weather station at the OPA Locka Naval Air Base reported that the area under suspicion was pinpointed at latitude 11 north, longtitude 50 west—a few hundred miles south of the point at which a violent 140-mile an hour hurricane now sweeping west northwestward up the Atlantic was first discovered last Thursday.

Grady Norton, chief forecaster at the U. S. Weather Bureau in Miami said that no definite storm had yet been located, but reports from ships at sea and the San Juan, Puerto Rico Weather Station had prompted the decision to send a hurricane hunter to investigate.

He said he was now awaiting a radio report of the Army plane's findings.

B-17 CRASHES INTO RIVER, KILLING 9 MEMBERS OF CREW

ABERDEEN, Md., Sept. 15.—(AP)—Officials at Aberdeen Army Proving Grounds reported today that a B-17 bomber crashed into Bush river while on a routine training flight today and killed nine persons.

There was one survivor. Names of all aboard were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The public relations office at the army post said the plane, attached to the proving ground, crashed and sank in the river off Abbey Point. Bush river is near the head of Chesapeake Bay about 20 miles north of Baltimore.

There were eight military personnel and two civilians aboard, the post public relations office said.

One witness estimated the plane crashed about 2,000 yards from shore.

No cause for the crash was given, and post officials said an army air force board would begin an immediate investigtion.

Corsicana Will Honor Gov. Jester, Gen. Wainwright At Fair Opening Tuesday

Corsicana Monday was in final preparation to honor an infantryman and a cavalryman.

The infantryman: Gov. Beauford H. Jester, a captain in World War I, a native of Corsicana.

The cavalryman: Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, a four-star general, a West Pointer, a horse soldier who did it the hard suffering way during World War II.

Each will be honored Tuesday, the initial day of the eleventh annual Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show.

Wainwright to Arrive Monday

Gen. Wainwright, who felt the overwhelming crush of the Japanese at beseiged Corregidor and Bataan, and later the silence of the Nipponese prison camp, was scheduled to arrive at the municipal airport at 3:30 p. m. Monday. He was to be met by Sheriff David Castle and taken to Lake Trinidad, to be the guest of the Texas Power & Light Co.

The last report as to arrival of Gov. Jester was on Tuesday morning. Originally slated to come with Wainwright, it was announced that he would arrive by plane Tuesday morning.

He informed his mother, Mrs. George Jester, Sunday that he would be unable to arrive before that time.

Regardless, they will both be here in time to take their places in the annual parade which will open the fair.

Special Mounts

The fair association has set aside eight fine horses for the dignataries to ride. Gen. Wainwright and Gov. Jester will be astride two of them. Sen. James E. Taylor and Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray Jr., had been assigned two. Nobody seemed to know who would occupy the other four horses, but there will be an abundance to choose from Tuesday.

The parade in itself is expected to be quite a spectacle. John Garner, general chairman, said it would require 45 minutes to pass a given point.

Band in Lead

Leading it will be a U. S. Army band. From there on back to the last bicycle, Garner, said, it should be fun.

It will start promptly at 10:30 a. m. The line will start forming with the spearhead at Fourth and Main St. To the rear along the

COOLEST WAVE OF SEASON MOVES OVER NORTH TEXAS; NATION HAS WIDE VARIETY IN TEMPERATURES

By The Associated Press.

The season's snappiest weather covered the northern half of Texas this morning and was expected to be down to Brownsville by tonight.

Temperatures came within four degrees of freezing in the Northern Texas Panhandle early today as a cool mass of air entered the Panhandle gateway. Miami, in Roberts county, reported a low of 36 degrees.

A whirling windstorm asccompanied by .75 of an inch rain and severe lightning dipped through Clarksville early today, smashing several plate glass windows and damaging roofs and awnings. Electric service was disrupted. No injuries were reported.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for the southern half of Texas this afternoon as the cool air traveling southwerd bumped into warmer weather.

By 8:33 a. m. the cool front had hit Austin, bringing a 10-degree drop in temperature from 80 at 8:30 to 70 at 9:30.

Light Showers Reported.

Only light showers were reported generally preceding the cool front, with heavy showers reported locally. Lindale at 2.14 inches, Tyler 1.27, Decatur 1.08 and Weatherford 1.03.

Crickets Beginning To Thin Out In Local Streets, Stores - - But Not Before Giving Merchants, Housewives Bad Time Of It

Corsicana Monday began to get relief from crickets.

The ones that didn't come to town Saturday reported Sunday.

Those that didn't find a place to stay Saturday, did so Sunday.

Practically every showwindow in town was featuring crickets Monday morning.

Nobody, not even those who understand crickets, knew from where they came, nor why. Not very many people care enough about the cricket to study him or her extensively.

"Migrating" Obvious.

The best explanation offered was one by an authority of sorts. He said they were migrating. Which, of course, was obvious. They certainly were migrating, all right.

It is known that only the male goes chirp-chirp, and he does it without using his mouth. He does it by rubbing certain parts of his wings together when he is happy.

There are those, however, who watched one harassed Corsicana merchant go after the little fellows with a blowtorch Monday, who insist that both male and female were going chirp-chirp something awful, and they weren't happy, either.

The blow torch method of extermination was recommended by many but the fire chief was not among them.

Firemen Cautious.

"A cricket with his wings afire might fly into something and start something," said one of the firemen.

He might, at that.

Nosey persons always probing things like crickets, were worried, too, about how the chirpers got to the top of the State National Bank building. And the

BRITAIN SELLS $80 MILLION IN GOLD TO U.S. RESERVE BANK

RESERVE BEING USED FOR FIRST TIME SINCE EXCHANGE TIGHTENING

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The Bank of England has sold gold valued at $80,000,000 to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the treasuary announced today.

A treasury spokesman said the sale of 20,000,000 pounds from government reserves was the first transaction of the kind since the remaining $400,000,000 of the $3,750,000 American loan was frozen Aug. 20.

Britain at that time suspended the right to convert sterling into dollars.

Draw on Reserves

"Since we can't get dollars from the American loan we must draw on our gold reserves," the treasury observed.

This action coincided with an authoritative report that Prime Minister Attlee soon would reshuffle his cabinet, and a prediction that Britain's already heavy taxes would be increased this fall as a bar against inflation.

The chancellor of the exchequer, in announcing the end of sterling convertibility Aug. 20, said Britain had 600,000,000 pounds ($2,400,000,000) worth of gold and other basic reserves in addition to the loan resources.

WIDESPREAD ITALIAN STRIKES SEEN MAKING U.S. AID TASK HARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A State Department spokesman said today that the widdespread strike of farm and factory workers in Italy will make it more difficult for the United States to assist Italy economically.

Press Official Michael J. McDermott also indicated at a news conference that the State Department regards the increasing work stoppages as possibly communist-insired.

McDermott said:

"Widespread interruption of production which is intended to serve political ends only will inevitably render more difficult any effort to help Italy to help herself."

McDermott made the statement in replying to accusations made yesterday against the United States by Palmiro Toglyiatti, Italian communist leader.

The Russian-trained Togliatti charged yesterday in two separate speeches that the U. S. is a dictatorship which is "working eagerly to prepare for a new war."

SLOVAKIA ANNOUNCES PLOT AGAINST BENES NIPPED WITH 80 HELD

PRAGUE, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The state of Slovakia announces today it had nipped a plot to overhrow President Eduard Benes' government and assassinate him. It said 80 ringleaders had ben arrested.

Slovakia's interior ministry said many members of the band were in government employ. It added that the plot was broken by the confession of a former Vlasov band terrorist who had served with a German panzer division in the war and later with German SS troops seeking to quell the Slovak revolution.

Officials of the national ministry of the interior began an inquiry to determine whether the persons arrested were connected with last week's unseccoussful bomb attempts on Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, Vice Premier Zenkl and Justice Minister Prokop Drtina.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY HELD IN DEATH OF ANOTHER, ONLY 11

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 15.—(AP)—A 14-year old Parochial school student was held today for the slaying of an 11-year old companion whom the FBI said he admitted garroting with a leather belt in an abandoned warehouse because he wonted to prove himself "no sissy."

The FBI said the boy, Fred Walter Smigelski, signed a statement telling how he had planned to kill someone to assert his superiority in the face of his mother's continual demands that he wash dishes, dust the furniture and do assorted housesold chores.

Smigelski was held without charge at the parental home in Bayonne.

Voluntary Rationing Would Aid Europe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Under Secretary of Agriculture Norris E. Dodd said today voluntary rationing of food in this country appears to be the only way to avert famine abroad and prevent the collapse of friendly European governments.

He said such rationing should perhaps take these two forms:

(1) A reduction by housewives in the purchase of livestock products such as meats, milk, butter, eggs and poultry.

(2) A reduction by farmers in feeding of grain to livestock, particularly the use of less wheat for feed.

Dodd, who is acting as secretary in the absence of Secretary Anderson from Washington, suggested voluntary rationing at a news conference. He said that the government does not have the power to impose formal rationing or restrictions on use of foods and grains.

U.S. Warns Soviet World Disapproves U. N. Veto Actions

BY JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The United States indirectly challenged Russia today to cooperate with the United Nations or face a world judgment that none can veto.

The challenge was couched in meaningful diplomatic languare and came as an array of world leaders converged on New York for the opening tomorrow of a crucial session of the United Nations assembly.

Obviously referring to Russia's use of the veto in the Security Council, Secretary of State George C. Marshall said in an address yesterday that members of the United Nations "have by no means exhausted the potentialities of the charter in finding ways and means of overcoming obstruction and of meeting their common problems."

"Paralyze Principal Organs."

"We find it difficult to believe," he said "that members of the organization would deliberately seek to destroy its structure by persistence in acts of aggression or by obstruction of a nature to paralyze

The most dangerous issue—and the most difficult—which the assembly of the United Nations faces as it begins its new sessions tomorrow is that of the veto by means of which any one of the Big Five (Russia, Britain, France, China and the U. S.) can kill a majority decision in the security council.

Thus far the peace oaganization has been rendered virtually impotent by Russia's persistent employment of this paralyzing power which was adopted originally as a necessary safeguard but was intended for use only in extreme emergencies. Continua-

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BREAKS WITH SPAIN; ARGENTINA HOLDS OUT

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 15—(AP)—The Dominican Republic today announced it had withdrawn its minister from Madrid in compliance with a 1946 United Nations assembly recommendation slapping at the Franco regime in Spain.

The announcement on the eve of the 1947 assembly in New York left Argentina listed as the only U. N. member which has not complied with the majority recommendation of the 55 nations that all recall their top level diplomats from Madrid.

The Dominican government earlier had informed Secretary-General Trygve Lie that "proper consideration" would be given to the assembly resolution but no further word had been received until today.

The Argentine government did not have an ambasasdor in Madrid when the anti-Franco resolution was adopted last fall but disregarded the U. N. action and sent a new envoy to the Franco government shortly after the assembly adjourned in December.

New Trieste Riots Hurt Two As Pact Going Into Effect

TRIESTE, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Rioting in downtown Trieste brought hand grenade explosions tonight and injured two men.

An unidentified Yugoslav man had been killed earlier in the same district. A British army public relations officer said "a band of irresponsible Italian youths" was responsible. An 11-year-old Italian girl was killed at the weekend when a burst of machinegun bullets was fired into a Communist club.

Tonight's rioting broks out after Slavs who had gathered on nearby hills moved onto the Piazza Garibaldi. It came only a few hours before formal invocation of the Italian peace treaty, which makes Trieste a free trritory subject to United Nations supervision.

One Seriously Hurt.

One of the men was in a serious condition, Venezia Guilia police headquarters said.

For most of the day, demonstrators had been milling about. Most of them carried Italian flags. Two British subjects were attacked before they could make their identity known.

Many Italian flags flying the city were draped in mourning.

C.I.O. LEADER CALLS FOR SPECIAL SESSION TO RESTORE CONTROLS

CONGRESSIONAL PROBERS TOLD PROFITS TO BLAME FOR HIGH PRICE SPIRAL

By The Associated Press.

Government officials and food experts today offered various proposals, from voluntary food rationing to re-establishment of price controls, to cope with the soaring American price spiral.

In Cleveland, Secretary of Commerce Harriman told a luncheon meeting of business men he believed Americans should "voluntarily reduce" their consumption of meat to help feed the people of Western Europe.

Harriman said the alternatives to such voluntary meat rationing would be to reinstate government controls, or "to bid up the price of wheat to a point where it will not be profitable to feed it to animals." The voluntary rationing plan, he said, was in his opinion, the best of the alternatives.

A proposal that a special session of congress be held immediately to re-establish price controls and rationing came from an Eastern CIO leader.

INJUNCTION RUMORED TO BREAK BAN ON WORKERS' MIGRATION

AUSTIN, Sept 15.—(AP)—A possible effort to enjoin the state from enforcement of a law under which it seeks to halt the movement of migratory laborers out of Texas was widely reported in the capital today.

One report was that the Congress of Industrial Organizations was planning court action, but J. J. Hickman, acting executive secretary of the State Industrial Union Council said he was unable at this time to confirm the report."

Texas Closes Border

Texas Saturday blocked its borders to migratory workers seeking to leave the state under the urging of labor recruiters whom State Labor Commissioner M. B. Morgan said were not complying with the law. The law sets up a procedure under which recruiters from other states are required to contact the Extension Service at Texas A and M. College or labor agencies licensed by the state.

Morgan said inspectors were sent yesterday into the Denison-Sherman area to check highways leading out of the state in that vicnity.

WORKERS

workers attempting to leave Texas for northern and easternn jobs has been set at 3,000 to 4,000 by Caesar Hohn, head of the labor replacement program of the Texas Extension Service.

Texas Saturday night blocked its borders to migratory workers seeking to leave the state under the urging of labor crew recruiters who had not complied with Texas law regarding labor agents.

The Marshall News-Messenger quoted William Yeager, Jr., an extension service worker, as saying Saturday night that 50,000 to 60,000 migratory workers were attempting to leave the state.

Hohn said that 50,000 to 60 000 migratory workers were employed in northern and eastern fields, but that no such number was attempting to leave.

Interpreters Supplied

He emphasized that the extension service had nothing to do with the law enforcement and had merely supplied interpreters to aid the workers at the request of the State Labor Commissioner.

M. B. Morgan, labor commissioner, yesterday said he had received no new roprts from field workers concerning the number of migratory workers turned back Saturday night and yesterday.

Earlier he had said his commission is working to stop the "bootlegging" of migratory farm labor from Texas to other states.

Agent's Fee $600

Texas law requires farm labor agents to pay a $600 state franchise tax and an additional tax of from $150 to $300 each for each county in which they operate.

"I've had eleven of twenty deputy labor commissioners working the highways to keep Mexican workers from getting out of the state," Morgan had stated Saturday.

"We've been catching them at Marshall—about 300 so far—and diverting them to parts of the state where farmers need the most.

Seeking Recruiters

He said that his deputies were primarily concerned with carrying illegal labor recruiters.

Morgan declared that an individual worker or individual families could go where they wanted to. But, he said, "when we see a truckload of 30 Mexican workers, we know they have a labor leader. We stop the truck to check on whether the labor leader has recruited them illegally for out-of-state work.

Hohn added that the labor commission deputies were treating the Latin-Americans "very decently."

Low Rates Denied

Hohn said reports that the scale for cotton picking in Texas ranged as low as $1.50 per hundred compared to reported prices of $3.50 in other states was incorrect. He said that Texas rates ranged from $2.50 to $3.00 and in some cases were higher.

John Crain, son of Manager Jim Crain of the Lee Wilson Co. plantation near Blytheville, Ark., reported that six truckloads of Texas workers, who had been held at the Texas border, were on their way to the Plantation.

Young Crain said his father was in Texas attempting to release more workers. He added 500 pickers had already arrived from Txeas and that the Plantation would need from 2,500 to 3,000 pickers. The Plantation has 25,000 acres in cotton.

Auto Turns Over On Highway Near Rice

A 1938 Hudson automobile turned over two miles south of Rice on Highway 75 Friday night when crowded off the pavement, according to a report to city officers and highway patrolmen. The car landed in a bar ditch.

Stir until smooth and thoroughly blended. Fold in remaining sour cream and lemon juice. Chop cress and endive coarsely and blend with the sour cream dressing.

fifth floor of the Navarro Hotel.

Did they hop on somebody's collar and get carried up? Did they ride the elevator and call their floor? Did they hop up, or climb up?

Nobody, excepting the crickets, seemed to know. But they were up.

The cricketts—migrating as they were—didn't seem choosey as to where they landed. They huddled up in doorways al lover town, and it was very discouraging to merchants who swept them into the gutter and then had them jump back to the doorway.

There was the offended wife who had cricket trouble.

At Sunday morning coffee one hopped from the floor to her husband's coffee. Bad migration, that. The husband was very irate, with cricket and wife, and tossed the coffee away and was very grouchy about it to the wife. Mumbled about poor housekeeping, and crickets in the coffee and who takes care of things around here, and such.

Later in the day, another hopped from floor into his glass of beer.

The wife was very startled just to see him fish it out, wring it out, toss it on the floor.

The cricket must have been a male.

He came away chirping and burping.

Walter Hayes, Jr., plans to continue his studies at Baylor University during the coming year.

tion of this situation must ultimately mean the death of the U. N. as at present constituted.

Tactics of Obstruction

These Soviet tactics of obstruction have coincided with Moscow's launching of the world revolution for the spread of Communism, and have been duplicated by similar tactics in allied councils in Europe. The result is that peace and economic recovery have been stymied—and it's significant that turmoil and hard times provide the soil in which Communism thrives.

So we see that the consistent use of the veto power by Russia in the U. N., fits in with a broad strategy of obstruction which is favorable to the world revolution that is now in full swing. Meantime the Soviet delegation has been able to use the U. N. as a sounding board for dissemination of Communistic ideas.

Reds On Defensive

However, the Russians lately have been swinging into the defensive in contrast to the offensive which they were maintaining a year ago. The other members of the U. N.—apart from the Soviet satellites—are determined to have a workable peace organization even if they have to scrap the present structure and reform it along lines which will eliminate the present difficulties.

The hope, of course, is to get reform without remodeling the U. N. but it will take a big inspiration to evolve an idea that will work. A year ago British Foreign Minister Bevin proposed at a meeting of the Big Five foreign ministers that a "code of conduct" be adopted in connection with use of the veto. But Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov vetoed this. Since then there has been eager search for a way to alter the U. N. charter so to preclude abuse of the veto, but the charter can't be changed in face of a Russian veto.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault represented France in the Paris ceremony before taking a plane for New York to attend the general assembly of the United Nations.

Penalties against the five losers include $1,330,000,000 in reparations, the bulk of which is to go to Russia, and territorial losses for all save Bulgaria.

Armed Forces Curbed

The treaties restrict the size of their armed forces and provide guarantees against a rebirth of Fascism, racial and religious discrimination.

Ambassador Walter B. Smith represented the United States at the Kremlin anl Ambassador Jefferson Caffery in Paris.

In both ceremonies the Big Four representatives were presented deposit texts drawn up in advance for signatures. Copies of the individual treaties also are to go into Moscow and Paris files. Of the Big Four, only Russia and Britain were at war with Finland and hence only they signed the Finnish peace treaty.

Baby's Health

Care of a baby's health should begin long before it is born, and continue throughout the dangerous days of infancy.

Before and after its birth the doctor should be the guardian of a baby's health. In the pre-natal period advising the mother on diet, exercise, and rest . . after birth he should be consulted regularly on formula, diet, and weight changes.

You may be sure that your doctor will do the utmost to keep your baby free from illness and contagious disease.

The reliable druggist will help guard your baby's health, too, by supplying the necessary drugs and sundries for his health and comfort.

LOCAL ELEVEN PUTS OVER TOUCHDOWN IN INITIAL QUARTER

BEST EFFORTS TO FREESTONE COUNTIANS THROTTLED BY HOME DEFENSE

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff.

State Home Lads handed the Fairfield Eagles a 20-0 defeat Thursday night at Fairfield in the first game of the 1947 season for a Navarro county grid team, and served notice that they will be strong contenders for 23-B district honors this year

The Lads were in control of the game from start to finish, and effectively throttled the running and passing attacks of the Eagles, who were regional champions last year.

Coach John Corner's boys were never in serious danger, and many of the Lad second stringers saw action in the second half of the contest. The Fairfield squad was handicapped by the fact that their new coach, G. E. Roberts, had been with them but three days, but the Eagles never stopped scrapping.

Score Early.

The Lads scored once in the first quarter and once in the second, holding a lead at the half of 14-0. They came back early in the third quarter to add another tally and end the scoring for the game.

Showing an effective knowledge of the vaunted T, the Corsicana boys made all their touchdowns via the ground attacks, and depended little on passes to help them along. Buck Phillips called a heady game at quarterback, and Downey, Rawls and Taber got off for substantial gains on frequent occasions. The Lads line made few bobbles, and throttled most of the Fairfield plays at the line of scrimmage.

Fairfield Fumble.

The Lads got their first score early in the game, when Cole fumbled on the Eagle 9 yard line, and Eugene Bryant recovered for the Lads. Downey and Taber took it to the 4 in two tries, and Rawls went over left guard for the score. Downey went over right tackle for the extra point.

The second tally climaxed an 80-yard drive by the State Home. Two passes from Phillips to Murdock and several substantial runs brought the ball to the Eagle 3, where Buck Phillips took charge to plunge over from center. The kick for point was good.

The last Lad score came in the third quarter. Bryant recovered a Fairfield fumble on the State Home 25. Rawls made it to midfield via right end, and Downey skirted the other end to the Fairfield 35. Perona and Phillips got the ball to the Eagle 14 in three running plays, and Rawls got a first down on the 7. Downey hit left guard for the score, and the kick for point was blocked.

The performance of Murdock and Phillips, the Lad co-captains, was very satisfactory. Bryant and Bill Phillips in the line were outstanding defensively, and Wells Herrington and Carpenter performed well.

Subs Do Well.

Second stringers who did remarkably well were Roger and Wayman Perona, both of whom played Junior High football last year. Tremon Elrod, recently declared eligible by the district committee, was a valuable man last night. Oliver Milner, Loveless Redding, Lloyd Cross, Virgil Creacy and Luther Rogers did well in relief roles.

The Lads will travel to Hawkins on Friday night, Sept. 19, for their second game of the season, also a non-conference tilt. Hawkins tripped the Lads 14-13 in tehir meeting last year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Keen and son, Mike, have returned from Mexico City and other points of interest in that vicinity.

Bulldogs Lose Two Promising Players

Harold Bryant and Bill Balcom two promising starters on the Navarro Junior College grid team, or 1947, were lost to the Bulldogs at least for part of the season, Thursday afternoon, Coahes Ken Clark and Guyle Akridge report.

Bryant, 1946 letterman in the Bulldog backfield and key man in the pass defense, was operated on for appendicitis Thursday and will be out of action for a month or better.

Bill Balcom, ex-Tiger footballer, and a leading candidate for the starting center position, suffered a twisted knee in practice Thursday. The full extent of the injury has not been determined as yet. but Balsom will be out of the line-up for some time.

Clark said that the loss of the two gridders would necessitate some changes in both offense and defense of the college team.

Miss Cornelia Hardy was a recent visitor in the home of Mrs. Lucy Gable at Dawson.

ROBERT V. YARBER FILES CANDIDACY MEMBER CONGRESS

Robert V. Yarber of Corsicana Friday afternoon tossed his hat into the Democratic party political picture for 1948.

Yarber filed an application with Paul Moore, secretary of the Navarro county Democratic executive committee, as a candidate for the nomination as congressman of the Sixth Texas district—the place now occupied by Col. Olin E. Teague of Bryan who is serving his first term.

The congressional aspirant did not issue a statement outlining his platform or the questions on which he will base his candidacy.

The application was addressed to the chairman of the Navarro County Democratic executive committee. Rex Patterson of Frost is the chairman.

Yarber recently figured in the news with a mandamus suit filed here against Governor Beauford H. Jester, seeking to force the chief executive to call a special session of the Texas Legislature to hear impeachment proceedings against State Senator James E. Taylor of Kerens after he became public relations director of the Texas Manufacturers' association and declined to resign his seat in the Texas Senate. The case is set for a hearing here Sept. 29 in Thirteenth Judicial District court.

MISS BARBARA CALLAN BECOMES BRIDE OF GEORGE O. NOKES, JR., IN CEREMONY AT WACO FRIDAY

Miss Barbara Callan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Barnett Callan of Waco, became the bride of George O. Nokes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Nokes of Corsicana, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Callan in Waco at 4:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The double-ring ceremony was the one-thousandth to be performed by the Rev. W. W. Melton, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. L. M. Alexander was at the organ for a prelude of nuptial music, the traditional wedding marches and the accompaniment for Miss Merle Alexander, who sang "The Lord's Prayer." "Ave Maria" was used as background music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marirage by her father, was attired in an afternoon dress of champagne satin and carried a handkerchief of champagne French lace. She wore harmonizing accessories and a corsage of gold orchids.

The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Miss Diana Callan, who wore an afternoon dress of deep blue satin. She carried a handkerchief of white French lace, and chose a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore brown crepe with a corsage of gold gardenias, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in black crepe with a corsage of fuchsia-tinted gardenias. Newton Roman of Corsicana served his cousin as best man.

At the informal reception that followed the ceremony, Mrs Boyd Callan presided at the wedding ring cake and Mrs. Natalie Stewart of Dallas served punch. Assisting in the dining room were Misses Mary Brinkerhoff of Waco, Margaret Wooldridge of Austin, Bing Henderson of Lufkin, and Mesdames Harold Callan of Dallas and Joe Ford of Brownwood, aunts of the bride.

The couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a brown gabardine suit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Waco High school and attended Baylor University, where she was a member of the Alpha Omega Club. On August 31 she was graduated from the University of Texas, where she was affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Cap and Gown, Bluestockings, Ashbel Literary Society, the Cactus staff, Campus League of Women Voters, and served as treasurer of the YWCA.

The bridegroom was graduated from Mildred High school and attended Baylor University until he joined the U. S. army air corps. He served as bombardier with the Eighth Air Force in England and was discharged a first lieutenant. He returned to the University of Texas, where he is a member of the University debate team, Athenaeum Literary Society, and served as president of the Oratorical Association. Last summer he was elected representative to the state legislature from the fifty-eighth district.

Mr. and Mrs. Nokes will reside temporarily in Austin, where he is a member of the staff of the department of speech and a student in the University of Texas law school.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George O. Nokes, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Roman, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roe, Mr. and Mrs. David Ralston and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jacobs, all of Corsicana.

Turkey Support Prices

The government has advertised effective Sept. 1, price ranging from 25c on heavy toms to 35c on smaller Grade A toms and Grade A hens. The basis for B Grades 3c less. No provision is made for purchasing C Grades at all.

All turkeys produced in this county will not grade over B Grade until they are finished and cool weather comes so that the pen feathers will blossom and be picked from the turkey.

Penny turkeys although finished are considered B Grades, and very penny ones C Grades, so you can readily see that the support price can not go into effect until after October.

We think the market will be very firm, and that it may be possible that we can pay support price or better without going through the Government purchase program.

Should the cash markets not be in line with the government prices we will purchase for the government program.

Regarless of which market we use - - turkeys will not be ready to dress until November and many will not be ready until December.

We will continue to pay the producer the highest possible cash market and will be competitive all through the season with any legitimate market.

We want the Turkeys in this territory.

CORSICANA, TEX., SEPT. 16, 1947

BUT WHAT IS GOLD?

Mr. Ernest Bevin, foreign secretary of England, thinks all would be well if the United States would redistribute the gold it holds in reserve at Fort Knox, Ky. This newspaper doubts it.

There is a curious idea that gold is wealth in itself. But it is not. Real wealth consists of goods and services—and that is all. Food is wealth—a warehouse full of wheat, a ham hanging from the rafters for winter sustenance. Buildings are wealth—the home that shelters, the business block which gives a man space to work in and protection from the elements while he is doing it. Schools which shelter while education goes on; churches which shelter while the spirit is refreshed. Clothing is wealth. So are tools and trains and ships and trucks.

In a world where goods and services are plentiful, gold may be wealth, for it will purchase objects of use and comfort and production. But in a world where goods and services are short, gold is of little value.

Old King Midas of the Greek fable found this out. Gold was very nice when he cold use it to buy rich rugs and costly furnishings and fine foods. But when everything he touched turned to gold, it was different. He could not eat the golden food nor wear the golden clothing. When his little daughter turned to gold he begged to have his golden touch taken away from him.

If Mr. Bevin had all the gold he wanted, he still could not buy more coal or wheat or wool or shoes with it until these things were mined or grown or made. His short goods and services would still be short—and far more costly .

The Marshall plan offers hope and incentive to higher production. If it works out it ought to help Europe very much. More gold? You can't eat it, Mr. Bevin.

BIRD-WISDOM

What enables a homing pigeon to get back home over hundreds of miles of strange territory is a mystery that has intrigued man for a long time. In experiments conducted for the army signal corps, a Pennsylvania State College professor thinks he has hit on the explanation. This gifted bird, Prof. H. L. Yeagley believes, is equipped with something that makes it sensitive to the earth's magnetism. Further, this variety of pigeon is able to react someway that is still unproved, to the earth's turning. These combined senses give these birds their uncanny directional ability.

It has taken centuries of study and invention for man to devise the compass, the navigating tricks and charts whereby he can get his shps and airplanes across uncharted sea and sky spaces. The homing pigeon has had these secrets under its feathers all the time.

Man may have been made master of the beasts of the fields and the birds of the air, but he had best not be too vain about it. Some of the creatures under him are smarter than he.

ORCHIDS FOR TRUMAN

That was a nice story that came out of Rio De Janeiro the other day about President Truman going orchid-hunting. In the midst of all the political and diplomatic complexities that have weighed upon the United States' chief executive, it is refreshing to find that he had the energy and enthusiasm for a mountain climb after exotic orchid blossoms.

He arose early in the temporary White House which the United States Embassy in Brazil has become. The giant statue of Christ, 2300 feet above beautiful Guanaba Bay, was in view, symbol of the peace the North American President was helping to build with his neighbors to the south of his country.

Somehow orchid-gathering seemed a fitting pastime for a United States President on a mission dedicated to unity and understanding in the Western Hemisphere.

AN EYE ON ARGENTINA

"Trouble," says a philosopher, "is not the thing you see coming ahead of you. Real trouble has a way of sneaking up behind you and getting you in the back when you least expect it." It may be so. Here we were all watching Hitler, when up behind us sneaked the Pearl Harbor disaster.

At present, all American eyes seem turned toward Russia with foreboding. They look south hardly at all. But in Argentina a cat was let out of the bag at the Rio conference. Argentina, under her present government, was quite willing to sign the pact of hemisphere solidarity of defense against an enemy from without. She was not willing to sign against an enemy from within. Argentina did not want the whole hemisphere to jump on her if she began annexing small countries such as Bolivia and Paraguay, just as Germany took over Austria and Czechoslovakia, just as Russia now turns her neighbors into satellites. It is no secret that Argentina covets the hegemony of South and Central America.

In Argentina, during the war, there were whole settlements of German Nazis, with their flags, their schools, their Hitler Jugend and all the rest. Those Nazis are still there. unconquered, bitter, arrogant—and well heeled. They look forward to a next time. There may be the beginning of real trouble.

At Rio, Argentina yielded to hemispheric pressure and finally signed the pact. Perhaps all will be well. Her bluff was called. But Americans remember that Germans once referred to a solemn treaty as "merely a scrap of paper."

It's not a very satisfactory Argentine government they have now under Peron. Its own people are said not to like it too well. Perhaps before long it may change and some sort of democracy be established. Americans want to hope for the best. But it will not hurt to keep a weather eye out in the direction of Argentina.

NEW TYPE GRADUATE

More and more young people want college degrees. This year's enrollments are estimated at 2,750,000 a jump of a quarter of a million over last year. Colleges are equipped to handle a total of 1,600,000. In 1939 the college census was under 1,500,000. In those days there was competition among colleges for the students.

The picture is reversed now. Academic requirements are raised to the point where only the able serious student has a chance at matriculation, or any hope of keeping abread of the stiffer demands once he's in. Often he must substitute other courses for his first choices because of crowded classrooms and laboratories. Teachers are so limited in numbers that he is forced to rely more on his own efforts to master assignments. Fees are so increased to meet raised operation costs students must seek part time jobs to a greater extent than in the past, thus making such jobs harder to land. Dormitories are so jammed that living in them has lost much of its old-time enjoyment.

The student who comes out of college having surmounted all such hurdles will be of a different type from the graduate of yesteryear. He will probably be of higher intellectual level, tougher mentally, more determined. While more Americans will have degrees, the degrees will mean more than ever before.

CHEAPER VEGETABLES

The men behind the nation's salad bowl, growers of America's vegetables, met 600 strong in Cleveland recently and promised cheaper vegetables within a few years. Cornell University professors were the official bearers of these good tidings. Weed killers get the credit. From tests with these chemicals at the university's experimental farms, plants sprayed from pre-emergence to within a month of harvest were unimpaired. And there were no weeds to absorb expensive labor costs in their eradication.

What back-breaking hoeing and hand wedding these products of the laboratory eliminate. Having a backyard garden may yet be fun. And if a family can look forward to one great class of food stuffs coming down a bit in price, some things are looking up. Good cheer rises as prices fall.

A GOOD SPORT

"I'd like to see Mize do it, and it looks as if he had a great chance." So Babe Ruth, the home-run champion of yesterday, encouraged Johnny Mize, who is threatening the Babe's mark of 60 home runs in a single year.

Not many record-holders, or people generally would show as good sportsmanship toward someone who made fair to dim their fame. The nation has known some champions (and others) whose encouragement of a rival would be, "I hope he breaks a leg."

There is renewed talk of a rocket trip to the moon. Wonder if the Russians would be a problem there.

No nation can live on a handful of rice every second day, but it's pitiful how many of them are trying it.

Really, is it fair to the nation's manhood to display on the women's page a lot of unessential information about the Bride's New Coat, leaving the groom, as usual, entirely out of the picture?

WEATHER GRUMBLER

I remember—and could it have been last spring?—
When it rained day after day,
And it seemed that the sun on its northward swing
Had forgotten the month was May.

I remember that often I grumbled then
And wished for the skies to clear,
And I frequently said to my fellow men:
"We are having a dismal year."

Wel', the sun is ablaze in the skies today
And scorching the fields of grain,
And I'm grumbling still, in the same old way,
And wishing for wind and rain.

The heat that's fretting me now will go
And autumn will bring the rain,
But whatever the weather may be, I know
To my neighbors I'll still complain.

MRS BILL F. FLYNN

MISS KITTY BETH GARRETT, BILL F. FLYNN TAKE NUPTIAL VOWS IN WICHITA FALLS CHURCH RITES

Miss Kitty Beth Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Garrett of Wichita Falls, became the bride of Bill Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Flynn of Corsicana in formal ceremonies performed at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls with Dr. James H. Landes, pastor, as officiant.

White satin ribbon bows and tiny nosegays marked pews beside the white aisle cloth laid for the bridal party to approach the effectively decorated nuptial space. The white satin-covered altar was illumined by tall white cathedral tapers in branched floor candelabra, arranged in semi-circle against a background of woodwardia ferns and other summer greenery. Basket arrangements of white chrysanthemums and asters completed the altar decor.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an especially designed gown of heavy white satin fashioned with pointed basque bodice, boat neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bodice terminated in a draped peplum which extended into a voluminous cathedral train. The bride's veil of imported illusion floated from a tiara of illusion and seed pearls, and cascaded in tiers the full length of the bridal train. She carried a white Testament topped with white orchids and showered with diminutive white satin ribbons and tuberose blossoms. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. They served as "the something new," and the "something old and borrowed" was the Testament that belonged to Mrs. M. R. Kirkland of Electra, aunt of the bride, who had used it in her wedding. It had also been used by another aunt of the bride, Mrs. Henry Gulick of New York City in her wedding. To complete the tradition, the bride wore the six-pence in her shoe.

Wedding Attendants

Mrs. Harmon J. Sessions who served as matron of honor, was attired in pink taffeta fashioned similar to the gown worn by the bride. She wore long gloves in a harmonizing shade of pink and a dainty headdress of flowers and net designed to form a tiara. She carried a bouquet of pink, blue and yellow asters.

Bridesmaids were Miss Norma Wadsworth and Mrs. Frank H. Gregg. They wore gowns designed to duplicate the gown of the matron of honor, created in colors of blue and yellow respectively. Miss Wadsworth carried a bouquet of yellow asters and Mrs. Gregg carried a bouquet of blue asters.

Miss Teddy Marie Clark of Bowie, cousin of the bride, who served as flower girl, chose a white satin floor-length frock, fashioned similar to the bride's gown. She carried a white satin basket filled with forget-me-nots. Jimmie Clark of Bowie cousin of the bride, attended as ring bearer, wearig a white satin suit, and he carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Paul T. Flynn of Lubbock attended the bridegroom as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were Bobby Garrett, Harmon J. Sessions, Frank H. Gregg and J. H. Justice of Corsicana.

Informal Reception

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and bridegroom were honored with a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Garrett, the bride's mother, Mrs. L. F. Flynn of Corsicana, mother of the bridegroom, and members of the bridal party.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Paul Flynn of Lubbock, Miss Rosemary Manns, Miss Joyce Hoeldke of Bowie, Miss Carolyn Duke of Iowa Park, Miss Anabel Holloway. Mrs. M. R. Kirkland of Electra, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. L. A. Linsey at the bride's cake, and Miss Cookie Biggs at the bride's book, where reception guests were registered. Mesdames E. L. Moody and Hunter Jones assisted in the dining room.

For reception, the pink, blue and yellow color scheme was repeated in handsome floral decoration, used effectively throughout the entertaining suite. The colorfully appointed bride's table was laid in imported linen and lace cloth, over blue satin, and the central point of interest was designed of blue, yellow and pink asters. Extending from the centerpiece were blue satin streamers, tied with dainty nosegays of pink rosebuds, which encircled the punch bowl and the cake, both of which were placed at opposite ends of the table. Fern fronds were placed in vantage points to add beauty to the setting.

The couple left after the reception for a wedding trip to points of interest in South Texas. They will culminate their trip in Corsicana where they plan to establish residence. For travel Mrs. Flynn chose a smart brown crepe suit with dark brown accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The bride was well known in Wichita Falls where she was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and attended Hardin College for two years. While in college she was an officer in the Secretarial Club and during her high school years she was a member of the Junior Forum. She was presented as a debutante by the Forum during her senior year in high school.

The bridegroom was graduated from Corsicana High School, and attended Hardin College and was a member of the Hardin Indian football squad. He will return to Corsicana where he will be associated with his father in business.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kirkland of Electra: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Clark and daughter, Teddy Marie, of Bowie; Hal G. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Flynn, and J. H. Justice of Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flynn of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Flynn of Grand Prairie.

First greetings were extended by Mrs. Harris, and receiving with Mrs. Wortham were the honoree and mother-in-law, Mrs. B. H. Clark, and Mrs. T. B. McCarter of Canyon, sister of Mrs. Clark.

Chrysanthemums in rich Fall hues adorned the reception room, and the refreshment table held a profusion of the same blossoms, shading from pale yellow to deepest bronze. Tall green tapers burned in antique silver candelabra and provided a soft illumination for the setting.

Miss Hortense Davant served pigs-in-blankets and Mrs. Winfred Berry of Dawson poured coffee. FOOD PRICES

Frank J. Benti, president of the Rhode Island State CIO, told a congressional subcommittee holding public hearings on the price situation he believed high corporate profits rather than wages were responsible for the upward price spiral, and added, "the situation has become insufferable."

"Immediate Session" Demanded.

"We demand an immediate special session of congress to take action now," he said. "We have seen our standards of living impaired by uncontrolled inflation. We have waited long enough for business men to heed the call for voluntary restraint. There is only one effective way to control inflation: The government must control prices and ration scarce commodities."

In Washington, another proposal, voluntary rationing of food, was suggested by Undersecretary of Agriculture Norris E. Dodd, who stated such rationing appeared to be the only way to avert famine abroad.

Dodd's proposal was in concurrence with advice given the American public from several quarters which said in effect, "Eat less or export less."

Grain Basis of Foods.

The head of the investigating committee, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), said grain was the basis for all foods except fish, fruits and vegetables and stated, "I think we can run a little short on our distilled liquors to improve the feed situation."

As trading opened on the Chicago Board of Trade with prices in wheat, corn and oats all higher than Saturday's close, legislators and food experts declared a curtained export program or a concerted belt-tightening drive at home, or both, were necessary before prices would come down.

Not Enough Grain.

In St. Louis, Walter C. Berger, president of the American Feed Manufacturers Association, told the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association convention there was not enough grain in this country to maintain present production of meat, milk and eggs and also supply foreign countries at the present rate of export.

Asserting that the size of American exports is much too great Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) suggested, however, that high food prices could be remedied if people would "eat less extravagantly." He added that exports can't go on at the "rate of $15 billion dollars a year without having an effect on prices."

Poor People Affected.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) countered that only the poor people, who are unable to pay high food prices, must cut their eating—not Senator Taft "and his wealthy friends." Instead, Sabath proposed government anti-trust investigations be broadened to include five groups which he charged are "responsible for the ever-increasing high cost of living."

In a letter to Attorney General Clark, the 81-year-old dean of the house listed the five as meat packing, dairy, produce exchanges, "fertilizer trust," and "the few men who manipulate the board of trade."

He added that it also would be well to give some attention to the textile and wearing apparel manufacturing industries."

As Sabath made public his letter in Washington, a joint congressional subcommittee was preparing to open an investigation of food prices in the first of a series of public hearings at Providence, R. I.

An Associated Press survey of the retail price of eight staple foods in 13 key cities in all sections of the nation showed the following average changes and prices from those for the same foods in the same cities a month earlier:

Bacon, up four cents a pound to 84 cents; pork chops up three cents to 80 cents; round steak, up three cents to 86 cents; bread unchanged; butter up 12 cents a pound to 90 cents; eggs up 14 cents a dozen to 80 cents; milk up one cent a quart to 20 cents; tomatoes, No. 2 can, two cents to 16 cents.

Only a few islands, principally the Abaco group, were expected to feel gales and high seas as the storm by-passed the main Bahamas group. Betty Carstairs' Island "Kingdom" in the Berry group probably will be swept by squalls and winds near gale force.

"Too Close for Comfort"

"It is getting too close to the coast for comfort, but the probability of a northward turn is still strong," he said.

Winds of 125 to 143 miles per hour whirled near the center of the storm with hurricane force winds reaching out over an area more than 70 miles from the core. Gale winds extend outward 200 miles to the north and east.

A warning that all interests in the Northeast Bahamas Islands exercise caution against dangerous gales and high seas this afternoon and tonight was sounded in an advisory issued at 10:30 a. m. (CST).

It was expected that the storm would continue on its present course for the next six to 12 hours, reaching a point 75 to 100 miles northeast of Abaco Island early tonight.

A turn to a more northerly direction is still indicated, the advisory said.

At Tarrytown, N. Y., John Foster Dulles a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations Assembly, said that every government now realizes "if it goes against a strong prevailing moral judgment it may suffer grevious penalties."

"It was never expected that the security council could act decisively when great powers were on opposite sides," Dulles said. "It was expected that, even under these condition, the U. N. could work for peace by requiring every nation, however powerful, to submit to a public judgment which none could veto—for it would be the conscience of the world."

In Baltimore, U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said it was not the big powers but the former colonial peoples who perhaps are the greatest potential threats to world peace.

EUROPE

rope, also has been suggested by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Chester Davis, former war food administrator and chairman of the president's famine emergency council.

Taft, Truman Agree.

(Taft, at Santa Cruz, Calif., Saturday, said that President Truman had advocated a similar course. He quoted Mr. Truman as saying in a midyear economic report to Congress 'if real shortages should develop, the need of sharing such relative scarcity on as equitable a basis as possible both among ourselves and between domestic and foreign users of food resources should be emphasized.")

Just back from the annual meeting of the United Nations food and agriculture organization at Geneva, Dodd said the food situation in Europe is much worse than it was this time last year. The situation is complicated, he said, by the fact that crops in many exporting countries are down from last year.

Threat to Governments.

"It is not pleasant to think what may happen to a lot of people this winter if we don't get food to them," he said.

Dodd said that "the present governments in Western Europe would not last long if we withheld supplies from them."

President Truman is due home from Rio this week to face the decision whether a special session of congress should be called to supply emergency aid to Europe.

The Chief Executive's top advisers appear to be split on the subject.

Secretary of State Marshall, now in New York for the United Nations Assembly meeting, is expected to return as soon as possible after Mr. Truman arrives on Saturday to present the state department's case in favor of a special session call.

Opponents Less Outspoken.

Opponents of the state department's view have been less outspoked than Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett but word from administration officials indicates that two arguments may be advanced:

1. That the European nations probably can pull through on their own until the Marshall plan long-range recovery program can be put into effect next year, and.

2. That it would be a potentially dangerous move for the President to make for domestic political reasons.

There is considerable speculation within the administration over the position of Secretary of Commerce Harriman, chairman of the President's special committee studying United States resources for meeting European needs. Harriman told a news conference Thursday that Lovett had informed the committee of the situation in Europe, but the cabinet officer carefully avoided expressing his own opinion on the urgency of Europe's needs.

British Resources Cited.

Actually it is understood that some of Harriman's advisers contend that special session help is not necessary and that the British particularly have resources which could tide them over until the Marshall plan comes in. Whether their studies point a way out for Italy and France, both of which have very low reserves of purchasing power for wheat and coal imports this winter, was not immediately clear.

The state department hoped meanwhile to have on hand for the first time this week sufficient detailed information to support its contention that some European countries must have stop-gap assistance in a hurry.

leather belt tightened about his neck and several gashes on his chest and wrist. The statement quoted Smigelski as saying he selected the Preston boy as his victim because he was certain he was weaker than himself and could be subdued easily.

The FBI said the boy admitted the slaying after he had been brought to headquarters here by his father, Walter Smigelski, a lathe operator, whose suspicions had been aroused by a copy of a kidnap ransom note found by Mrs. Smigelski yesterday morning in the pocket in one of the boy's trousers.

Ransom Note Sent.

A similar note, crudely scrawled and asking $1,000 ransom had been received by the victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Preston, Sr., in the mail Saturday morning, some 12 hours after the boy was reported missing.

New Jersey FBI Chief S. K. McKee said the boy first insisted he met a masked man who asked that he help in the kidnaping of the Preston boy. The youth broke down under questioning, however, and told the story of his long resentment over household chores and his plan to prove that he was no sissy.

Police Inspector James Hanna of Kearny said the statement told of a long battle between the two boys in the warehouse, the two grappling and punching and threatening each other with pieces of broken glass before Smigelski subdued his younger antagonist.

"Sissy" Feeling Blamed.

Smigelski, an eighth grade student at Our Lady of Chenstohowa Parochial school in Harrison was quoted in the statement as saying he decided last week to kill someone in order to refute the "sissy" feeling which he attributed to the dishwashing and dusting chores.

Hanna said that Smigelski told how he lured the Preston boy from Kearny to the warehouse after school Friday on the pretense of finding a secret hideout and then attacked the boy. After strangling Jackie with a belt, Smilgelski told in his statement of gashing the boy's chest and wrist with broken glass. The statement said Smigelski then went to a nearby diner, washed his hands in the lavatory, drank a bottle of soda and went home.

fair and warmer in South Plains and Panhandle.

A 90-degree contrast in the nation's highest and lowest temperatures—103 at Las Vegas, Nev., and 13 at Big Piney, Wyo.—was reported today by the weather bureau.

The extremes were recorded as a flow of chill air swept into the north and central plains from Canada yesterday and spread eastward across the Great Lakes and Mississippi valley regions.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said the mercury probably would dip to the middle 30s tonight in both those states and to the lower 40s generally elsewhere in the Central and upper Midwest.

Scattered showers with continued warm weather was forecast for the south, while the northeastern states could expect fair and warmer weather followed by scattered showers.

The Rocky Mountain states would have partly cloudy and warmer weather, the bureau said, with generally fair forecast for the West Coast states.

Luncheon at State Home

Chief gathering of the day, of course, will be the luncheon for Gen. Wainwright and Gov. Jester at the State Home. All the service clubs cancelled weekly luncheon so that members could participate. Between 450 and 500 men and women were expected to attend.

No announcement as to the program had been made publicly Monday. The general will speak. Gov. Jester was slated to be master of ceremonies.

Later in the day—from 3 p. m. until 5 p. m.—there will be an open house at the Corsicana Country Club for the state officials and the visiting general.

The two will attend the rodeo at night, officials said.

Gen. Wainwright will be the guest of Gov. Jester while here.

It is probable that the coming U. S. Senate race would be discussed. At San Antonio Monday a reporter quoted the general as saying he would not comment on being a candidate for the U. S. Senate until after he confers with Gov. Jester.

Galveston tourist court on June 10.

Carl Sherman, assistant agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, said the weight of the child, its complexion, height and a "red spot" on the back of its neck all fit the description of Bernice Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Henry of Massachusetts.

Sherman said agents are checking with the Houston probation authorities, who are caring for the child, and that if it appears certain the baby is that kidnaped at Galveston witnesses from Galveston will be brought here for further identification.

The Henrys have returned to Massachusetts. Sherman and Galveston police were unable immediately to give the home town of the couple.

Detective Lieut. A. W. Rainey of the Houston crime prevention division took the child from a Houston couple this morning after the couple said they had clothed and bathed the baby and had it examined by a doctor.

Received Saturday Night.

Police quoted a Houston man as saying he had picked up the baby and a hitch-hiking woman Saturday night on the Galveston road near Meadowbrook and had driven them to Galveston.

In Galveston, police said, the woman said she knew no one there and asked to be taken back to Houston.

The Houston man told police he returned here about 4 a. m. yesterday and started to take the woman to the Salvation Army Home when she suddenly announced she did not want the baby and asked him to take it.

The man said he took the baby home but that his wife later yesterday had him report the incident to police.

Couple Take Child.

Meanwhile, a couple residing nearby heard of the child and asked to be allowed to take care of the baby.

Rainey said the couple took charge of the baby yesterday, bathed it, borrowed clean clothes for the child and called a doctor to examine her.

The couple, under probation division regulations, cannot be allowed to keep the child although they are eager to adopt her, Rainey said.

where the United States moved to switch the whole Balkan issue to the 55-nation body.

Russia opposes transferring the case and Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to use the session to level a Soviet blast at the American maneuver and perhaps even attempt to veto the step.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall's declaration in New York yesterday that the "direct threat" of Russia's Balkan satellites to Greek independence must be removed left no doubt that the Balkan case was given top priority in the American objectives for the assembly opening tomorrow at Flushing Meadow Park, N. Y.

The United States asked for the assembly-eve council meeting under Article 12 of the U. N. charter, which says:

"While the Security Council is exercising in respect of any dispute or situation the functions assigned to it in the present charter the General Assembly shall not make any recommendations with regard to that dispute or situation unless the council so requests."

U. S. Request Due.

U. S. Delegate Hershel V. Johnson first was expected to plumb for a direct council request to the assembly for action. Success there probably would mean saving the council's Balkan investigating commission which still is checking border disturbances.

An alternative would be to ask the council to drop the case outright and thus legally clear the path for the United States to seek assembly recommendations. However, dropping of the case from the council calendar probably would spell the end of the Balkan commission which Russia has been trying to liquidate.

CLOWN WITH CIRCUS COMING HERE MIGHT HAVE BEEN BANKER

The clown whose family wanted him to be a banker will be among the funmakers featured with Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus when the "greatest show on earth" presents two performances in Corsicana a week from Friday—Sept. 26.

Harry Dann, shown left with his goose comic "Horatius," convinced his family, including a St. Louis banker father, that clowning is his true vocation. He will demonstrate here when the circus appears on its North Highway 75 site.

Young Dann has trained "Horatius" well, and the bird has become a grand comic, even when he is doing an unconscious imitation of Donald Duck. You see "Horatius" is full of ego and pompousness. He really thinks he is the boss and that Harry is his patsy. The goose flies into magnificent fury when Harry doesn't do as he wishes. All of the hundreds of clowns with the Greatest Show on Earth have a lot of fun ruffling "Horatius." The goose will often chase them clear out of the circus "backyard."

With the clowns and an avalanche of sensational new features and innovations, the big Show presents 800 circus stars of international eminence on its gigantic program.

The great new Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus of 1947, offers the most gorgeous specticle in amousement history. This new pageant was produced at a cost of $250,000.

Performances in the world's largest tent will commence at 3:15 and 8:15 p. m. The doors will open at 1 and 7.

Grain Futures Higher

CHICAGO, Sept. 15. (AP)—All grains moved higher on the Board of Trade today under light but persistent buying which encountered a very limited supply of grain for sale. While activity was not heavy, gains in most cases were substantial.

Strength appeared based mainly on the prcnonced lack of offerings in all pits. Some buying in wheat came from mills. Flour circles said large eastern chain bakers have requested mills in the northwest and southwest to submit offerings and prices on round lots for delivery as far ahead as 120 days.

Wheat closed 6 3-4 to 10 cents higher, September $2.80, corn was 6 to 7 5-8 cents higher, September $2.65 1-2 3-4, and oats 1 7-8 to 2 3-8 higher, September $1.21-$1.20 5-8.
